GREEKS DELAY ADVANCE OF FASCISTS

Nazis Attempt Diplomatic Conquest As Italian Attack Moves Slowly

ATHENS, Greece, (UP) — Greek bombing planes and mountain troops were reported striking back today against an Italian land and air offensive aimed down the west coast of Greece.

Encouraged by the active aid of Great Britain, official sources reported that defense forces south of the Albanian border were halting or slowing down what appeared to be a big-scale Fascist push toward the town of Janina, 30 miles inside Greek territory.

Landings Blocked

MOSCOW, (UP)—British naval aid to Greece prevented Italian landings on the islands of Crete and Corfu, Red Star, official organ of the Russian Army, said today, but it predicted an early Fascist attempt to seize Corfu.

By UNITED PRESS

Italy's big-scale offensive into Greece today met stiff resistance that, reports said, slowed down or halted the Fascists on important sectors of the mountain fighting front.

The Italian troops were reported by the high command to have advanced through heavy weather about 12 to 17 miles into Greece on the Kalamos river front yesterday and to be continuing their advance against the retiring Greeks.

This general statement was not necessarily in conflict with the Greek high command communique, which said the defenders were holding firm after a brief retirement, or with other dispatches reporting that the Italians had been set back as specific points.

The Axis powers appeared to be attempting to foster a diplomatic

Jail Term For Drunk Driver

90-Day Sentence Imposed As Condition Of 3-Year Period On Probation

Norman Elliott, charged with drunken driving involving personal injury, was granted probation for a period of three years conditioned upon his serving ninety days in county jail, when he appeared in Superior Court Wednesday afternoon for further action on his plea of guilty to the charge and his application for probation.

Elliott had admitted his guilt and applied for probation at an arraignment Friday before Judge George H. Thompson.

The charges against Elliott resulted from an auto wreck in Upper Placerville on Friday night, October 18, when a car in which he and Neil Gardner and Dexter Kawelmacher were riding crashed into a pole near the juntion of Broadway and Washington Streets.

Kawelmacher and Gardner suffered skull fractures and other injuries as the machine, evidently driven at a high rate of speed, literally wrapped itself around the pole.

It was reported Thursday that Kawelmacher may be able to leave Placerville Sanatorium this weekend. Gardner's improvement has been less rapid and he will remain at the hospital.

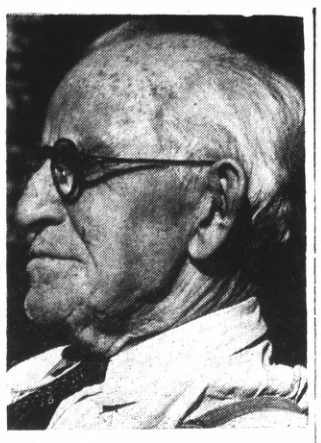

Man Fined For Taking Dog From City Pound

Elwin L. Furman appeared in city court Thursday morning and pleaded guilty before Acting Police Judge T. F. Lewis to a charge of taking his own dog from the city pound.

City officers disclosed Furman's dog had been taken up by the dog catcher when found running at large and reported that on October 27 Furman personally went to the pound and released the dog. Furman said he had not thought about it being advisable to consult city officers on the matter.

He was fined $10 and granted a period of grace in which to pay the fine.

H. B. Fowler was in Nevada duck hunting in the Fallon vicinity Wednesday, on his day off from highway patrol duties.

WINFIELD SCOTT RODGERS, born in Placerville, October 28th, 1853, just a few days after his parents completed the overland journey from their Illinois home. Mr. Rodgers moved in early life to Boulder Creek, near Santa Cruz, where he formerly published a newspaper, has been active in fraternal life, and has served fifty years as a member of the school board.

ANNUAL FARM MEETING SET

County-Wide Gathering May Be held At Coloma; Enrollment Is Scheduled

The annual meeting of the County Farm Bureau will be held Saturday, November 23, and will be held at Coloma Community Hall if arrangements to obtain the hall for that evening can be concluded.

The date for the occasion was set Tuesday night at a special meeting of the County Farm Bureau directorate at the Farm Advisor's office.

Membership committees of the various centers of the county will meet at breakfast Monday morning, November 25, at Hotel Raffles, to launch the annual membership enrollment.

In addition to instituting arrangements for these two events in the Farm Bureau program for November, the directors also took steps to foster increasing activity in the various departments of the Farm Bureau in the interest of contributing in greater measure to the welfare of agriculture in general and agriculture in the county in particular.

The various centers, it was agreed, will be asked to name committees on wool marketing which will assemble in a general meeting for a study and such action as may be found to be desirable in connection with the marketing of wool from El Dorado County flocks.

It was suggested that each center should name two members to work with their committee chairmen in the livestock, poultry, and deciduous fruit departments.

George H. Volz was named delegate to the state Farm Bureau convention at Stockton, November 11 to 14, in the place of Leland Veerkamp, who will be unable to attend.

CONSCRIPTION LISTS 1646 IN COUNTY

Order Numbers As Drawn In Washington To Be Posted When Officially Received

The county's registration of men 21 to 36 for military service stood at 1,646 Thursday morning.

Selective Service headquarters at Room 1 in the basement of the Placerville post office, announced that ten men registered have volunteered for one year of service, and also announced that the order numbers for men registered, as selected by lottery at Washington Tuesday, will be posted in the post office corridor when they are received through official channels from Washington.

It has been indicated that upon receipt of the order numbers, questionnaires will be dispatched to the men registered according to the order in which their registration numbers were selected in the lottery. These questionnaires are to be filled out and returned within five days.

An advisory committee, headed by Paul Smith, American Legion commander, will maintain headquarters at the War Veterans' Memorial Building during afternoons and evenings of the questionnaire period, to assist registrants who may require such help in completing their questionnaires. There is no charge and no obligation for this assistance and any conscription registrant may apply for such help.

Up to Thursday, a total of ten men registered in the county had indicated their desire to volunteer for one year of service either in the Army or Navy. These included Orval H. Fleming, James L. Boggs, Edward K. Whitney, Ray C. Miller, Charles B. Weber and Melvin Drew, all of whom chose the Navy; and Glenn D. Price, Charles W. Cope, eGorge D. Fiest, and John L.

Draft Boards Await Lists

Questionnaires Go To Registrants As Soon As Numbers Are Received

WASHINGTON, (UP)—In another 18 days 30,000 men—most of Whom had numbers in the draft lottery this week—will be inducted into the army for a year of military training.

But the draft, as such, probably will not go into effect until December because officials today expected that first batch of 30,000 men to volunteer rather than wait for the compulsory call.

Most officials rested yesterday after the more than 17½ hour session of number drawing. But their staffs today were busy preparing official lists of the numbers for mailing to to local draft boards.

When received local boards will cross out the numbers which exceed their registration numbers. Those left will constitute, in the order drawn, the local boards' guidance for the first call.

Local boards prepared to mail out millions of questionnaires to take an accurate inventory of the manpower available including a census of dependents, a survey of the physical standards, and other information needed for selection of those fit for service.

TAXPAYERS' COMMITTEE MEETING WITH TWO NEW MEMBERS

Other committee members include Henry Bacchi, of Lotus; Swift Berry, of Camino; C. W. Doe, Jr., of Diamond Springs; George Eberhard and Louis Enzler, of Cool; J. E. Joerger, of Shingle, and Fred Veerkamp, of Garden Valley.

WAR BY APRIL IF F.R. WINS-WILLKIE

Voters "Entitled To Know Answers" To 5 Questions Put By G. O. P. Nominee

By UNITED PRESS

President Roosevelt's announcement that Great Britain is negotiating for 12,000 more American airplanes and other war equipment, and Wendell L. Willkie's statement that the United States could expect war by next April if Mr. Roosevelt is reelected, dominated the political campaign today.

Mr. Roosevelt, after making the announcement at Boston last night in his third major political speech of the campaign, was returning to Washington for the last time before election. He speaks at 4:15 p. m. today during dedication ceremonies at the national cancer research institute, at Bethesda, Md. He makes political speeches tomorrow night in New York; Saturday night in Cleveland, and Monday night at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Willkie, leaving Baltimore where he spoke last night, was returning for two days of campaigning in New Jersey. He speaks tonight at Camden. En route there, he challenged Mr. Roosevelt to answer five questions about unemployment, economic depression, his alleged failure to provide adequate defense, the third term, and "corrupt political machines." He said the people were "entitled to know the answers" before election day.

Other speakers tonight were:

For Willkie: Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee in 1928, speaking at Boston; Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney who campaigned for the republican presidential nomination this year, speaking at Caldwell, Idaho; Former President Herbert Hoover, at Lincoln, Neb.; Judge Samuel Seabury, whose investigation drove former New York Mayor James J. Walker from office, and

Willkie Rally On Saturday

Independent Democrats Schedule Talk By Former Assemblyman

El Dorado County Democrats for Willkie will hold a rally meeting Saturday night at the courthouse with James Brennan, former member of the State Assembly, as the main speaker.

Announcing preliminary plans for the rally, officers of the Democrats for Willkie Club said an invitation also is being extended Cecil Wetsell, of Omo Ranch, rescuer of a kidnaped baby in that section of the county recently, to attend the meeting.

In calling attention to the rally, Mrs. Ethel Raffetto, vice-chairman of the Democrats for Willkie, issued the following statement to women voters of the county:

"Believing that the women of El Dorado County are sincere citizens, vitally interested in the continuance of our Constitutional Democracy in its present balance, I urge you to cast your vote against the Third Term and all that it signifies. A government top-heavy with a single personality may be all right for European countries but we Americans, who understand the possible significance of admitting that any one man is indispensible, will not permit that sort of government here.

"Here in California we should heed the warnings of our own Hiram W. Johnson who has begged us to vote against the Third Term, and against the perpetuation of a growing bureaucracy that threatens to strangle our free institutions.

"The argument most often heard in favor of the Third Term candidate is that he has had eight years of experience and therefore he should be continued in office. Think of how much stronger that argument would be if he had twelve years of experience and consider how firmly entrenched will be his administration, and the political machines which are its foundation, in another four years. Remember that a strong opposition is the backbone of our Democratic system and that a one-party government would be a very unhealthy condition for a people who wish to remain free.

"It is not too late! Vote for Wendell Willkie."

Acuff, who expressed a preference for service in the land forces.

According to word received by the selective service board, men who are listed for conscription may apply to the board for the opportunity to volunteer for one year of service, and may express a preference as to which branch of the service they desire.

It was explained that these men and any others who "volunteer," merely express a willingness to enlist now without awaiting draft classification, for one year of service.

They have not been ordered up for induction and their enlistment may or may not be turned down. They will be sent forward when a quota is called for from this county and the number of them who are accepted will be credited to the draft quota from this county.

By HENRY McLEMORE

CHICAGO, (U.P.)—For a man who doesn't have a false moustache, a pair of gumshoes or a skeleton key to his name, I do a pretty good job of snooping. Here I've been in Chicago fewer than 24 hours, yet already I have snooped enough to get a fairly good lowdown on why the Pacific Coast Conference is so anxious to make the Rose Bowl game a closed affair between one of its members and a representative of the Big Ten.

The coast schools see such a move as a tremendous step toward the cleaning up of intercollegiate football. For some reason or another football out there in the Golden West is going pure. Either the boys have had enough glory and made enough money, or else they have finally decided that cleanliness is next to Godliness. Their g-man investigator, Edwin Atherton, is now peeking through every gridiron keyhole and seeing to it that things are kept in order.

This sudden shift to the finer and higher things made the selection of a Rose Bowl opponent a bit difficult. The coast boys couldn't get Ivy League schools or the Army or the Navy or Notre Dame. With the Big Ten (or rather the Big Nine since Chicago took up drop the handkerchief) opposed to post season games the coast had to get a Rose Bowl rival from the Southeastern or the Southwestern Conferences. This, it was decided, wouldn't do. Because the boys in Dixie and the southwest openly admit subsidization and will tell you not only the name and numbers of the players, but the salaries.

So the coast went to work on the midwestern powers. It argued, and with much sense, that if Northwestern, Illinois, Michigan and the others would agree to play in the Rose Bowl, the bad boys among the other schools of the nation would start cleaning house in order to be eligible for a shot at the $100,000 that goes along with a Rose Bowl bid.

In my snooping I learned that if the Big Ten officials vote in favor of playing in the Rose Bowl at their meeting on Dec. 6 and 7, it doesn't necessarily mean that the Pasadent fiesta will always be a closed corporation. At least one of the midwestern bigwigs has indicated that if after a few years, all universities abided by the N. C. A. A., rules on behavior and ethics, it would be all right for the coast representative to choose any team it wanted to.

The chances are right now, I gathered with a bit of delicate eavesdropping, that the western nabobs will vote in favor of making the trip to Pasadena. At the present time four favorable votes are pretty certain, two are indefinite, three are against, and Chicago isn't going to cast a ballot. That's mighty close, but I learned that the indefinite cusses stand to be swayed toward a trip west for the footballers.

One thing is certain: If the Rose Bowl is made a closed, or anything near a closed corporation between the midwest and the far west, it will lose its standing as the country's greatest intersectional football game. There are bound to be many years when the two conferences are below par and major attention will center on the combats between national leaders in the sugar, orange, and cotton bowl games.

But this won't matter insofar as the financial take of the rose bowl is concerned. The operators could sell it out even if they matched Spearfish Normal and Slippery Rock.

My guess is that the boys in this section will vote to go west starting New Year's Day, 1942. There is a chance, though, that the coast will withhold its bid until after the western meeting in December, and the marriage will take place this coming New Years.

Utter Lack Of Necessity For Third Term Is Stressed

"Both of the candidates for President are fully aware of the importance of the independent Democratic vote. It is obvious to everyone that the contest transcends partisan politics and, because of the grave issues that confront the voter, it is also perfectly plain that the fact that we happen to be registered in one or another party has absolntely no significance," says Richard Barry, vice-chairman of Democrats for Willkie.

"We Democrats did not choose Mr. Roosevelt as our candidate. With the help of the powerful political backing he has cleverly assembled in the past eight years he chose himself.

"The President's contention that he was drafted and that he is an unwilling candidate is so transparent that the issue must appear ridiculous in the eyes of all thinking Americans.

"We independent Democrats want no part of the machine politics controlled by such notorious professional bosses as Kelly, Nash, Flynn and Hague. If Mr. Roosevelt requires their backing to put over his claim of indispensability then his case is not a strong one. We independents are attracted to Wendell Willkie, the sincerity of his purpose and the justness of his cause.

"The Willkie Democrats have no axe to grind and are purely a public spirited and voluntary organization. Our purpose is to call the attention of our fellow Democrats of the seriousness of the Third Term issue and the utter lack of necessity for it. We sincerely believe that our government should continue to be based upon fundamental laws and not upon the ideas or whims of any one man—no matter who that man may be."

GRANGE NOTES

Gold Trail

Gold Trail Grange held a "Booster Night" at their Hall in Coloma Wednesday evening October 23rd, with a large crowd attending. The meeting was called to order by Past Master E. H. Odlin, master pro tem, for our master, Robt. Johnson, who gave a short talk as to the reason of the Grange holding booster night.

After the singing of "America" by the audience and a prayer by our chaplain, Ray Rosenberger, the meeting was turned over to Lecturer Minnie Marchini for the following program: A talk on the amendments being brought before the public at the coming election, recitations by Martha and Bernice Rice; a song by Marilyn Hines; songs, "Old Black Jo," and "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen," by Lester Martin; a short play by Gladys Akin and Francis Hancock; old time music by Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter and Henry Kane; a duet by Jack Cummings and his saxophone and Noreen Peterson at the piano; a song by Marilyn and Eugene Hines; a guessing contest "Who Was the Ghost," by Bertha Odlin; two songs by Charles Rasmusson; "God Bless America," by the audience and led by Lester Martin, accompanied by Noreen Peterson at the piano and Jack Cummings on the saxophone; after the program there was an apple bobbing contest for the children, won by Bernice Rice and all the kiddies in the contest received a lolly-pop. Then there was fortune telling by Eva Carpenter and Corrine Miller, and a fish pond by Florence Hines and Charlotte Winje. The evening ended with dancing following refreshments of apples, candy, nuts, cake and coffee. All seemed to have spent a most enjoyable evening, thanks to our worthy lecturer, Minnie Marchini who deserves a word of praise.

Home Ec Club

The Home Economics Club of the Gold Trail Grange will meet with Mrs. Andrew Marchini Thursday, November 7th, at 1 p. m. All members are requested to be present and bring their sewing.

settlement of the war in Greece, possibly with the aid of fifth columnists, against whom the Athens government is taking extensive precautions.

Rome dispatches named Crown Prince Paul of Greece as a likely vehicle for the Axis diplomatic maneuver.

Italian reports indicated that the Greece strong man, Gen. John Metaxas, was aware of this possibility. He was said to have placed Prince Paul in confinement.

The German Ambassador to Turkey, Franz Von Papen, suddenly left for consultations with Hitler. Significance of this move, which attracted great attention in Turkey, was not clear. It was presumed, however, to fit closely into the developing pattern of Axis operations in the eastern Mediterranean.

The air war on Britain went on at a slow pace, apparently due to poor weather conditions. British Planes made attacks into German-occupied territory and a few German planes dropped bombs on Britain.

U. S. MAY DEPORT WIFE OF COMMUNIST NOMINEE

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Attorney General Robert H. Jackson today ordered the deportation of Reissa Berkman Browder, Russian-born wife of Earl R. Browder, communist candidate for president of the United States.

Immigration service officials will meet within a few days to determine the effective date of the deportation order.

An application by Mrs. Browder for a suspension of the deportation order was denied by Jackson on the grounds that "Mrs. Browder's evasive testimony regarding her relationship to the communist party had created doubt as to her eligibility for leniency."

Mrs. Browder was arrested on August 7 on a charge of vioating the immigration laws because of her failure to have an immigration visa at the time of her entry into the United States. The warrant charged that she remained in the United States for a longer time than is permitted under the immigration act.

SPECIAL VENIRE OF 50 CALLED IN TRIAL OF MURDER SUSPECT

SAN JOSE, (UP)—A recess was taken in the trial of 16-year-old Richard Mandell on murder charges today to permit Santa Clara authorities to arrange a new panel of 50 veniremen for court appearance tomorrow.

Before declaring the recess late yesterday, Superior Jupdge R. R. Syer said there had been reports of "improper" conversations between spectators and prospective jurors. He warned that attempts to influence the jury would be punishable by fines and pail terms.

Mandell was on trial on his pleas of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity in the slaying of Josephine Parsen, 16-year-old school girl found clubbed to death last jury.

The California Wool Growers Association, San Francisco, will receive more subterranean clover seed from Australia, this fall.
